

Navigating the highly regulated, competitive life sciences and healthcare markets.

Advising companies and other stakeholders in healthcare and life sciences requires in-depth knowledge of the sector and its regulatory environment.

Navigating the regulatory demands of the healthcare and life sciences sector in a way that strengthens the business and increases value lies at the core of our expertise.

We advise on all regulatory and legal topics relating to the healthcare and life science industries. Our clients include pharmaceutical companies, medtech companies, hospitals, laboratories, manufacturers, suppliers, distributors and other healthcare providers. We represent our clients in contractual matters, M&A, administrative investigations and proceedings as well as in litigation and arbitration.

Moreover, we draft and negotiate agreements relating to the development and distribution of pharmaceutical and other products as well as the use of the intellectual property on which they rely.

Our areas of activity include:

- Regulatory advice
- Advice regarding promotion and advertising
- Representation in administrative investigations and proceedings as well as in court litigations and arbitrations
- Research, development, licensing, collaboration, marketing and distribution agreements
- M&A transactions

 The firm is my number one for issues needing the highest Quality.
